

Michigan State University

East Lansing, Michigan

The University required additional parking facilities adjacent to their main stadium and the decision was made to construct new tennis facilities and to convert the existing tennis courts into parking.

Global Consult Group was engaged by the Division of Campus Park and Planning for consulting design services to design thirty two new tennis courts at the University.

Twelve courts were designed on the Tundra Campus as a varsity tennis complex with spectator seating for 400 spectators and lighting for tournament and recreation class play.

Eight courts on Tundra Campus were designed for physical education, recreation play, and summer camps.

Twelve courts on East Campus were designed for recreation play and summer camps.
